London, Oct. 3 .- The Petrograd correspondent of "The Daily Tele-

"It is supposed that the German attacks along the Niemen and the Bobr, where on the latter river they continue to bombard the fortress of Ossovetz, may only be intended to gain time for gathering in force in Silesia, where they probably hope to arrest the Russian advance into Hungary.

"There is not much to be expected in the way of resistance from the Hungarian levies after such an oc currence as the ignominious flight just reported from Nish. A whole Hungarian regiment fled in panibefore the Servians at Notretucha on September 26, resulting in the execution of every tenth man as punishment.

"On the same day it is stated tha more than 1,000 men in three Austro-Hungarian regiments were killed by drunken soldiers firing indiscriminately among themselves."
